I. INTRODUCTION

This Candidate Information Booklet is designed to introduce Computer Based Testing and provide candidate information for the Electrical examination.

The Department of Business and Professional Regulation has retained the services of Pearson VUE/Promissor, to schedule, administer, score and report the results for the computer based tests. Pearson VUE/Promissor is a leading provider of assessment services to regulatory agencies and national associations and offers licensing and credentialing support services to associations, state agencies, and private industry.

Your examination(s) will be administered on an electronic testing system. The testing system eliminates the use of paper, pencil and answer sheets. Candidates input their responses by entering the answer of their choice (A, B, C or D). Before you begin the examination, you will have an opportunity to go through a tutorial on the computer. The computer is very simple to operate; it should only take you a few minutes to learn to use it.

The screen features a variety of function buttons to help candidates navigate through the examination. The function buttons are located in the same position throughout the test. Candidates can mark a question for review, move forward or backward one question at a time, or move to a specific question. The summary screen, which can be accessed at any time during the examination, shows candidates the following:

• Number of questions answered
• Number of questions unanswered and/or skipped
• Time remaining for the examination

III. THE EXAMINATIONS

The Electrical Contractors Certification exam is offered in two parts: a Business section (50 test questions, 2 ½ hours) and a Technical/Safety section (100 test questions, 5 hours). Both parts are open-book exams.

OVERVIEW – BUSINESS

The Business section is offered as a computer-based exam through our current vendor. Currently the Department of Business and Professional Regulation has retained the services of Pearson VUE, formerly known as Promissor, to schedule, administer, score and report the results for the Business computer-based test. Pearson VUE is a leading provider of assessment services to regulatory agencies and national associations and offers licensing and credentialing support services to associations, state agencies, and private industry.

The examination fee for the Business section is $22.50 and is payable directly to the vendor by the candidate at the time the exam is scheduled. The exclusive reference for the open-book Business CBT examination is the Contractors Manual 2009.* (Please see page 16).

A candidate may sit for the Business section by appointment with Pearson VUE anytime after the candidate receives approval from the department. After three (3) unsuccessful attempts the candidate is required to take seven (7) continuing/education hours in the business area. After successful completion of the continuing/education hours, the candidate must reapply to the department to re-take the examination through the vendor. There is a 21-day waiting period between successive attempts.

OVERVIEW – TECHNICAL/SAFETY

The Technical/Safety section will no longer be a paper and pencil examination. Starting November 2008, the Technical/Safety section will be offered as a computer based examination thorough the department’s current vendor Pearson VUE. The examination fee for the Technical/Safety is $45.00 and is payable directly to the vendor by the candidate at the time the exam is scheduled.

The technical/safety section is designed to measure how well a candidate has mastered the fundamentals of electrical contracting and to measure his or her ability to interpret and apply the appropriate sections of the National Electrical Code (N.E.C.) and other applicable references to practical problems.

The questions have been designed so that a person who has the required minimum ability to use the N.E.C. and the necessary background knowledge of electrical contracting will find it easy to select the correct answer. A person who is not familiar with electrical contracting and cannot use the N.E.C. will find it hard to guess the correct answer for any question because they present the candidate with a choice of common misconceptions, common faults, incorrect practices, or plausible nonsense. Therefore, the candidate should read each question thoroughly and carefully and select the best answer to the question. Each question has only one correct answer, which will be graded as the correct answer to the question. All examinations consist of multiple-choice questions.

In certain areas (e.g., Section 220-10(b)) the N.E.C. stipulates a standard procedure that should be followed in normal circumstances while also permitting alternate procedures or exceptions in other circumstances. If the question does not obviously call for the application of an alternate procedure or exception, the candidate should apply the provision of the N.E.C. in accordance with the procedures stipulated for normal circumstances.
A candidate may sit for the Technical/Safety section by appointment with Pearson VUE anytime after the candidate receives approval from the department. Each time a candidate fails the technical/safety section s/he must reapply to the department to receive a new authorization to test. After three (3) unsuccessful attempts the candidate is required to take seven (7) continuing education hours applicable to the section(s) failed before receiving a new authorization to sit for the examination. The grade report will provide candidates that fail the examination the area(s) in which they are deficient (Technical, and/or Safety).

CONTENT OUTLINES

The questions are based on the content outlines listed on the following pages which are separated for each examination. Candidates should use appropriate content outlines when studying the suggested references provided later in this booklet. It is suggested that each candidate become familiar with using the references, so that s/he can find the information necessary to answer the questions within a minimal amount of time. Candidates are strongly encouraged to bring the references for their specific specialty to the exam site to be used during the examination. A list of the acceptable references for each specialty is provided in this booklet.

PILOT TESTING

The examinations may contain a small number of experimental or “pilot” test questions. The purpose of including pilot test questions within the examination is to expand and improve the bank of questions from which future examinations will be drawn. This is a common practice used by many national and state examination programs and is a critical step in ensuring the continued reliability and validity of these examinations. In the event that pilot test questions are included within the examination, these questions will NOT be counted when computing your scores. Additional time will be given for answering the pilot test questions. The time allowed for testing has been evaluated to ensure there is adequate time for completing test questions and pilot questions. The pilot questions will not be identified. This ensures that the pilot items are considered fully and similarly to a scored item.

Examinations developed and administered by the Department are not “speeded” tests. This means that the majority of candidates have completed the test at the point where time is called. There is ample time for completing all testing questions including pilot test questions.

TEST TAKING ADVICE

The advice offered here is presented primarily to help you demonstrate your knowledge and maximize your chances of passing the examination.

- Read all instructions carefully.

- For best results, pace yourself by periodically checking your progress. This will allow you to make any necessary adjustments. Remember: the more questions you answer, the better your chances of achieving a passing score. There is no penalty for guessing, so you should answer every question.

- Immediately alert the Test Center Manager of any problems involving your exam materials. Do not wait until the examination is over to inform someone of a problem.

SUPPLIES

It is expressly understood by each candidate that the State of Florida, and/or the Department of Business and Professional Regulation and the Department’s staff hereby assume absolutely no liability of any nature whatsoever for any items of the candidate’s personal property which may have been brought to, left at, or left outside the examination site. It is further understood that the candidate’s admission to the examination shall hereby constitute the candidate’s full, knowing and complete waiver of any and all such claims against the State of Florida, and/or the Department of Business and Professional Regulation and the Department’s staff.

Fees

Computer Based Testing Examination Review Fee Matrix

Review Session

The review session is considered to be an extension of the examination administration. Only the candidate may attend the review session. Proper identification is required to obtain entry. No talking or note taking of any kind is allowed. Review sessions are usually one-half of the exam administration time. For example, for an exam lasting 2 hours and 30 minute, the candidate will be allowed 1 hour and 15 minutes to review.

Challenge Process

Written challenges are accepted for DBPR developed examinations. Candidates are given an opportunity during the review session to note in writing, on the computer, any objections they have to questions answered incorrectly. The challenges are forwarded to the Bureau of Education and Testing for review by a Psychometrician and subject matter experts to determine if there is any merit to the candidate’s objection.

The response time to challenges, on average, is approximately 4 weeks. Due to the confidential nature of the examinations, the only response you will receive is “credit” or “no credit” for each challenged question. Credit will only apply to the candidate who reviewed and challenged.

For informal review and formal hearing procedures visit www.pearsonvue.com.
